

BROOKLANDS ITALIAN CAR DAY 2012

IAMC member Mike Nettley recently Uno-ed his way to this event. Despite the less than good weather a number of unusual cars were present and he kindly took some pictures to share with us.

This Fiat 126 has taken its restyling cues from more modern vehicles.

Any Fiat 127 is unusual these days, especially the Palio limited edition.

Abarth always managed to make small cars look so aggressive!

It's hard to believe it now, but the Fiat 125 was once a quite a popular car in the UK.

The Fiat 131 made the most of its sharp lines.

The Iso Rivolta was rare even in its day.

The Lancia Aurelia was simply styled but very effective.

When did you last see a Maserati motorcycle?

This Ferrari 250 exemplifies the phrase 'timeless styling'.
